Online Learning

1

Learning new things is an exciting part of life. Learning can happen anywhere. There are kids who learn at a school, kids who learn at home and some kids who learn online. Students who learn this way use their computers and the Internet to connect to online classrooms. They use a camera connected to their home computer to let the teacher and other students see them. They can see their teacher and classmates on their screens because their classmates and teacher use a camera, too.

2

Before the Internet, children in remote places sometimes had classes over the radio or used the mail to get lessons and return them. For example, in the past, children who lived in distant parts of Australia were taught using the radio. Every day at a certain time, they tuned in to a special radio station. All the children could hear their teacher at the same time, but they were hundreds of miles apart. They got their lessons in the mail, did their homework, and mailed it back to the teacher.

3

Today, students who live far away from their teacher have classes on the Internet. In some online classrooms, a classroom full of kids can use a special computer program at the same time as the teacher. The students can live in one country, and the teacher can be located in a different country. Still, it's just like a classroom at your school. The teacher can teach the kids. The kids can ask questions. Everyone can see and hear everything that's being said as it happens.

4

It is also possible for students to live in different places and be a part of an online class together. Each person goes to a website for the class they are taking. Thousands of people can watch and listen to this class at the same time. When they want to speak, they can use a

Part A

How has learning from distant places changed over time?

- (A) Students can ask questions and get answers faster.
- (B) Students can hear their teacher during the same class time.
- (C) Students use the mail to receive and send work.
- (D) Students live far apart from their classmates.

Part B

Select one sentence that supports the answer in part A.

- (A) "The students can live in one country, and the teacher can be located in a different country."
- (B) "All the children could hear their teacher at the same time, but they were hundreds of miles apart."
- (C) "They got their lessons in the mail, did their homework, and mailed it back to the teacher."
- (D) "Everyone can see and hear everything that's being said as it happens."
- (E) "Sometimes, they don't have to have a class where everyone is together all at once."

How May I Help My Child?

- Read different types of books and informational text with your child.
- Ask your child to find answers to questions in the text of books, newspaper articles, manuals, etc.
- Encourage your child to form and defend an opinion by supporting it with facts, details and reasons from text
- Discuss mathematics ideas with your child have them explain these to you using pictures, graphs, etc.
- Visit the Florida Standards Assessment online portal at: www.fsassessments.org to become familiar with the new assessments.

THE END!

Thank you for coming!
